

ABAQUE OR UNIVERSAL CALCULATOR,

giving on sight, accurate within $\frac{1}{200}$, the results of all calculations of Arithmetic, Geometry, and practical Mechanics, etc.

by Léon Lalanne, former student of the Ecole Polytechnique, engineer of the Ponts et Chaussées.

This Abaque was approved by the Academy of Sciences on September 11, 1843

